

Know your body parts - Part 1

You have an amazing body. So do all the other people in the world. You have a brain that can do more complicated thinking than any computer. You have a body that can move in many more different ways than a robot. You have a heart that beats on its own.

Instructions: Knowing the parts of your body helps you to describe yourself better. Label the external parts of the body. Use your dictionary to help you spell the words correctly.
